

3 October 2020

Local Outreach, Global Impact

The spirit of giving back, improving our communities, helping those less fortunate, and making the world safer for everyone is strong within the ISACA community. Even a global pandemic did not stop our passionate members and their families in participating in the second annual ISACA Community Day on 3 October 2020. In fact, our outreach increased!

Activity ideas were creative this year – from outdoor environmental clean up and healthy activities to donation and fundraising campaigns to virtual cybersecurity seminars – and ensured that ISACA’s outreach remained impactful while abiding by proper protocols during the pandemic. The event, which won an ASAE Power of A Gold Award in 2020, celebrates our collective power and positive global impact through local outreach.

“Thanks so much for giving us the ability to participate and give back. Next year we will build up an even larger team to be involved. I find the creation of this annual event really inspiring.

– SUSHILA NAIR, GREATER WASHINGTON, DC CHAPTER

“It was really a well spent day and we all felt so good. The ISACA community is also getting socially aware and participation is going to increase.”

– ASAF AHMAD, SYDNEY CHAPTER

“It has been a challenging year, and the enthusiasm for this event is evidence of our willingness to support each other.”

– VERONICA ROSE, ISACA KENYA CHAPTER

“Service.. Happiness... Joy. Doing good. “

– PORT HARCOURT CHAPTER

“Normally we would be out and about volunteering but...we had to do it a bit differently this year. We are committed to our community and we will always find ways to help out. Even in times like these. Stay safe, everyone!”
